

Alanis Morissette - Ironic

Are you familiar with Murphy's Law?

What does this phrase mean? If something can go wrong, it will go wrong.

Have you ever been in a situation where the worst possible scenario has happened?

For example; have you ever forgotten to take an umbrella, and then it started to rain?

Look at the 10 phrases below and match the first halves with the second halves:

If someone gives you good advice...	...he will be married
If you are relaxing with a glass of wine...	...it will rain
If you meet the man of your dreams...	...someone will offer to take you there for free
If you need a knife...	...the plane will crash
If you take a long-distance flight...	...there will be a "no-smoking" sign
If you want to have a cigarette...	...there will be a big traffic jam
If you win the lottery...	...there will be a fly in it
If you're late...	...you'll die the next day
If you're getting married...	...you'll ignore it
Immediately after you buy a bus ticket...	...you'll only find spoons in the drawer

Now listen to the song and see if you got the phrases right, and put them in the order that you hear them in the song.

Have any of these things happened to you?

Think of a Murphy's law outcome for each of these scenarios:

If you wash your car...

If you are in a slow queue at the supermarket, and you decide to change queues...

If you get tired of waiting for a bus, and you decide to walk to work...

The moment you get in the shower...

The moment you arrive home from doing the shopping...

If you are spreading butter on your toast, and you drop the toast...
